

Gifts to Tech after the massacre

Donations flooded into Virginia Tech after April 16, 2007, but officials wanted to close a special fund for victims and families quickly, when it reached just under $8 million that summer.

Families didn't know Tech was about to launch a $1 billion campaign delayed because of the shootings.

